

MADS ØVLISEN POSTDOC FELLOWSHIPS

WITHIN ART HISTORY, PRACTICE-BASED ARTISTIC RESEARCH AND ART & NATURAL SCIENCES

OBJECTIVES

The Novo Nordisk Foundation wishes to support ambitious researchers within art history and art to conduct excellent research projects leading to a significant contribution to art-related research in Denmark.

ELIGIBILITY

Researchers holding a PhD degree or equivalent (magister degree supplemented with further research or other equivalent research activity) are eligible to apply for a postdoc fellowship.

There is no limitation in number of years from PhD degree (PhD age), however, the PhD degree or equivalent must have been obtained prior to submission of the application.

The applicant must be anchored at a university, museum or other knowledge institution in Denmark throughout the course of the fellowship program.

RESEARCH FIELDS

The fellowships run for two years and are awarded to ambitious and talented researchers with excellent project proposals within the following three research fields:

- 2 postdoc fellowships within art history are awarded to applicants, whose research projects are within the field of art history.
- 1 postdoc fellowship within practice-based research is awarded to an applicant, whose research project is based on an artistic or curatorial practice.
- 1 postdoc fellowship within art & natural sciences is awarded to an applicant, whose research project examines the interdisciplinary field of art history & natural sciences in a broad sense, including bio- and medical sciences and/or technology in contemporary or historical contexts.

FUNDING

Each scholarship amounts to DKK 1.2 million in total covering salary, operational costs and administrative fee.

APPLICATION PROCESS

The application must be completed and submitted using the Novo Nordisk Foundation's application system, which can be accessed from 29 November 2016 on the foundation's website.

On the website you can also find the complete call and application guidelines.

The application may be submitted in English or Danish.
